Lions Greet 4 New Members at Dinner Meeting

Report of Lakes Improvement Meeting at Conservation School Given

Four new members, Robert Webb, Edward J. Sletten, Charles L. Wertz and Daniel Sheahan, were received into the Antioch Lions club at a meeting Monday evening in Soper's Spa, Highway 173.

Ens. Edward C. Jacobs, home on leave from service with the navy, gave a brief talk on navy life after the 7:30 o'clock pork tenderloin dinner which was served to the 20 club members attending.

During the business session, announcement was made that the Chain of Lakes Improvement association committee sponsored by the Lions club held a meeting at the Illinois State Conservation school Friday evening, with State Representatives Harold D. Kelsey and Nick Keller, State Senator Ray Paddock and representatives of the Illinois conservation, waterways and highway departments in attendance.

Members of the Lions' club, committee present included William M. Marks, Dan S. Boyer, C. K. Anderson, George Joedicke, William A. Rosing, James Stearns and Harry J. Krueger. The meeting was in a sense a "follow-up" of a tour of the Chain of Lakes made by state officials and legislators last fall, with Lions, resort owners and business people of the area acting as hosts.

A report was also made on the placing of lights on Lake Antioch, which has been delayed but will take place some time this week, the committee in charge assured the club.

I. L. Paddock, Son of Pioneer Settlers, Dies

Family Lived in Area Since 1839; Father Built First Lake Resort

Just one day before he and his wife would have celebrated their fifty-second wedding anniversary, Irving L. Paddock, 75, died suddenly of a heart attack Monday at 12:10 a. m. in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Forster, 7729 Throop street, Chicago.

A member of one of the pioneer families of this area, he was born August 8, 1869, on the family homestead at Bluff lake which is now operated by his son Charles, and was a life-long resident there.

His parents, Lewis and Harriet Savage Paddock, built the first summer resort in the Antioch lake region. His grandfather, Aaron B. Paddock, in 1839 built the first log cabin erected between Antioch and Fox Lake. He was united in marriage Jan. 9, 1893, in Redford, N. Y., with Miss Jessie Bassett, who survives. In addition to his son Charles and daughter, Mrs. Forster, he is also survived by another daughter, Sister Margaret Paddock, DSV, of Carville, La. A son, Lewis, preceded him in death in 1927.

Send Rent Control Queries to Waukegan

Norman Nicholson, manager of the Lake County defense-rental area, with an office in Room 27 of the Waukegan post office building, has asked that matters concerning rent control in the county be taken up directly with that office, instead of through the Chicago office.

By doing so, people will avoid the delay caused by transmittal from Chicago, he observes.

Persons who have not registered rooms, apartments or houses they are renting or who have not filed reports of new tenants are requested by Nicholson to do so.

All efforts to revive him proved unsuccessful.

Will Freedom Survive Victory?

Another year of war has drawn to a close. Volumes of rhetoric will be written about the awful destruction of the past twelve months. Puny efforts will be made to describe the suffering of the men of the armed forces, who face death day after day, year after year, far from home and loved ones. Actually, there are no words that can adequately sum up 1944, the most critical year in American history.

In years past country after country has seen the spectre of oppression and government by small cliques loom larger and darker over the world. The United States is no exception to this trend. Much of our post-war planning is a crazy mixture of individual initiative and bureaucratic paternalism. The conflict between those who believe in state socialism and would have the government take over basic industries, and those who believe in the superiority of privately owned enterprise, has led to rash promises. Many on both sides apparently believe that the crux of the issue is a full stomach, with the result that a material value has been put on freedom. Each side has striven to outpromise the other until it has become rank heresy to suggest that there may at times be lean going in the future.

Millions expect government to furnish them jobs, to guarantee peacetime prices, to protect them from the insecurity of competition. They should remember that the more they ask of government, the less freedom they will have. If government ends by owning most of industry and employing most of the people as well as regulating the lives of the remainder, freedom will become a mockery. As Robert S. Henry, eminent writer and historian, observes:

"The right of nonconformity is ultimately the most important of human rights, but I doubt if it can long exist independently of the right of private property. After all, the man who owns nothing, and has no hope of owning anything for himself, is under a terrible handicap in expressing untrammelled individuality. He is without a place for his foot to stand upon, in opposition to the conforming forces of the collectivist state."

Our people could lose everything of material value as the price of victory in this war and still have a bright future. However, let too much government destroy the freedom and hope of the individual to build again and there is no future. The right of ownership is more important than ownership itself.

"On With The Job!"

The following statement by William R. Boyd, Jr., Chairman, Petroleum Industry War Council, is typical of the spirit of American industry:

"The 1944 elections are over. The majority wins and grins. The minority loses—and also grins! That is the traditional American way."

"During the late political campaign, oil men exercised their rights of citizenship and suffrage. Whether the candidate was running for office of dog catcher, governor or president, oil men were shouting and voting for the man of their choice. Some were for the winners, some for the losers. But all were good Americans, all are good Americans!

"When our country entered the war, the petroleum industry, with a unanimity never before known to it, resolved to do everything in its power to assist its government in prosecuting the war to a victorious conclusion. I believe our oil industry has given unexampled cooperation to its government and led the way in putting everything else secondary to providing our fighting forces with means to defeat our enemies. Every oil man has been and is proud to be a part of the industry which fuels and lubricates our war machine. We have been and are proud that our boys are flying to victory on the wings of petroleum."

"This is our America, the land of the free and the home of the brave. We have just given the whole world a demonstration of it by having a hot political campaign in the midst of war. We demonstrated the liberty of the individual citizen by the frank and forthright way in which we indulged in criticism of men and measures. We demonstrated our freedom with the march of over forty-five million voters to polling places where each voted without hindrance for the candidate of his choice!"

"Nothing during the election period interfered with the oil industry's support of the war effort and, election or no election, the petroleum industry will continue to give the utmost in all-out support of the government and all its war activities and to bear the torch of freedom for which it has always battled."

"America is still fighting a war and eleven million American boys are in uniform. Oil is ammunition, so let's forget 'elections' and be on with our job!"

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Wives and sweethearts of American soldiers in the South Pacific needn't worry about competition from native girls of the islands, particularly the Solomons, according to Osa Johnson. Mrs. Johnson, familiar with many wild and remote lands, knows a lot about the Solomons. Shortly after her marriage to the late Martin Johnson, her husband talked her into going to those islands and her life there she describes with much vividness in her latest book, "Bride in the Solomons." (Houghton Mifflin). But getting back to the island ladies. They are absolutely without lure, Mrs. Johnson declared as we chatted in her pleasant Park avenue offices. Judging by almost any standard, they are entirely deficient in pulchritude. Also they bathe so seldom that a young girl going around barefooted, which they all do, looks as if she were wearing puttees.

In the Solomons, Mrs. Johnson continued, a woman has the value of a pig—and the pigs run wild. If some young man desires a damsel for his bride, he gives the chief a pig. The chief in turn presents the pig to the family of the bride-to-be. The family in turn provides a feast at which the pig is eaten. If the bridegroom wishes another bride, he gets hold of another pig. Sometimes the bride's family gets a little up-pity and demands cash in addition to the pig. That isn't hard since cash consists of shells and porpoise teeth. Speaking of pigs, Mrs. Johnson told me that they, as well as dogs, were introduced in the islands by Captain Cook. Boars break off their front teeth. The new one comes in curved and the more times it is broken off, the more it curls until sometimes there is a beautiful double curve.

Even young women in the Solomons look old, Mrs. Johnson said. That isn't due entirely to the fact that there are no beauty parlors and nose-bobbing and face-lifting are unknown. It's mostly because the women do all the work. The lord and master may condescend to lay out a garden, but it is the women of his household who do the planting and the harvesting. Also they do the cooking, baking, the hut building and other little chores. So low is the estate of woman that a mother isn't allowed to raise her own son. The men have a big clubhouse where women are not permitted to enter. At an early age, the son is taken to the clubhouse where he is taught to be a warrior. If his mother wants to see him, she must stand at a respectful distance and call to him.

Tabooism applied even to Mrs. Johnson. She was wild to look into one of the "head houses"—the place where such trophies as human heads are stored. But she never got the chance. Or rather she didn't take the chance of indulging in so much as a peek. To have done so would have caused trouble—much trouble. In the first place, she would have been killed. In the second place, her husband would have been killed. Then having made the start, the natives would keep right on until all white men within reach and probably a lot of natives were slain. Thus, vengeance—and a meat supply. Cannibalism, despite all attempts to stamp it out, still exists Mrs. Johnson averred. When things get too hot along the coast, the head hunters merely move to the mountains.

Mrs. Johnson, a native of Chanute, Kan., in her own words, was merely a "little country girl," when her husband induced her to go to the Solomons by picturing the islands as an earthly paradise, with beautiful flowers, languid climate, etc. She found the flowers all right but many were poisonous. She also found rats as big as rabbits, huge spiders and landcrabs that would nip off fingers. Along with snakes, humidity, torrential rains and jungle stink that cannot be described. But Martin Johnson got what he went after—motion pictures of head hunters. He made the movies and his wife made the stills, many of which are reproduced in "Bride in the Solomons." Also Mrs. Johnson became so proficient with a rifle she shot down coconuts.

"Bride in the Solomons," is Mrs. Johnson's ninth book, six of her previous ones having been written for children. At the moment, she is engaged in writing another children's book also with plans to produce "Bride in the Solomons" as a movie. She has completely recovered from the plane crash in California in 1937 in which Martin Johnson was killed and she, among other injuries, suffered 25 knee fractures. She ascribes her ability to walk again to the fact that, because of her outdoor life, her bones knitted like a child's.

A GIANT INDUSTRY Gears to War

Changes in Milk Utilization
Average 1942-44
Compared with Average 1935-39

"Where did the butter go?", is quickly answered by a study of this chart by the National Dairy Council. Eight billion pounds of fluid milk are necessary to make the extra cheese, dry whole milk, evaporated milk, and ice cream for America's fighting forces and for Lend-Lease. An additional 10 1/2 billion pounds of milk are being consumed to maintain the efficiency of war workers and the physical stamina of American civilians. This represents total increased requirements of 18 1/2 billion pounds of milk.

Milk production since the prewar period has increased over 14 billion pounds. This leaves a deficit of about 4 1/2 billion pounds of milk which has been shifted from butter production to other concentrated milk products also needed on the fighting fronts. That shift accounts for a reduction of 215 million pounds of butter, which, in addition to about 370 million pounds of butter a year taken by the government for fighters and for Lend-Lease accounts for a reduction of nearly five pounds per capita for civilians.

Most of the amount of milk sacrificed by civilians is going to the fighting forces in the form of their favorite spread—butter. The balance is helping to win the war by keeping workers and fighters properly nourished with other concentrated milk products.

Our Merchant Marine

A FIGHTING MERCHANT MARINE

Ours is a fighting Merchant Marine, equipped with armor, guns and de-gaussing (anti-magnetic mine) protection.

While primarily for air defense, American merchant ships' guns have sunk not only submarines but enemy sea raiders.

Merchant ships' guns have broken up enemy air attacks on foreign ports. Gun crews often list their victims with symbols painted on gun mounts.

Despite all hazards, the American Merchant Marine continues to deliver the goods in the greatest cargo moving operation of all time.

A WORKABLE HAY DRIER

Build it now...feed richer, greener hay next winter!

Chopped Hay, as well as loose hay, can be barn-cured by the hay drier. This good-looking hay represents part of three cuttings of alfalfa that were blown in the Wright brothers' mow, near Manteno.

Hay Drier Duct Construction on the J. P. Bonfield farm near Geneva shows main air tunnel and lateral ducts over which hay is distributed. Tunnel and ducts are fed by a 36" propeller-type fan.

35 Tons of Loose Alfalfa were cured in the mow last year on the G. Y. Taylor farm, Huntley. As the partially-cured hay lay in the mow, drying air was forced through it by a 42" fan.

Protein and Carotene are saved by barn curing since leaves are not exposed to rain or lost through shattering. J. M. Clifton of Kankakee mow-cured this soybean crop.

Results from experiments on Northern Illinois farms prove that this new plan for barn curing of hay produces green, leafy hay of high protein content...cuts haying losses due to bad weather

Through research and experimentation, it has become a fact that mow or barn curing of hay with forced ventilation has developed into one of the greatest improvements in agricultural processes.

Local Farm Advisors and electric company Farm Representatives have made a thorough study of the process and have worked side by side with farmers who have pioneered in the barn curing of hay, and now the system is within the reach of every farmer who desires to put more Grade 1 hay in his barn, who wishes to do something about the haying losses that occur even under the best of haying conditions.

What it is...what it does

The hay drier consists of wooden ducts built on the mow floor through which an even distribution of air is fan-forced into and upward through the partially field-cured hay. By being able to safely put hay in the mow in a semi-green condition, protein-rich leaves remain on the stems and are not lost through handling processes. Moreover, damage from dew, rain, and excessive sun bleaching is cut to a minimum or completely eliminated. Both loose and chopped hay can be cured by the hay drier.

A hay drier for your farm?

Enthusiasm for hay driers is reflected by the number of farmers requesting installation plans and information. Since plans must be drawn according to individual barns (no two installations are identical), anyone interested in the use of a hay drier should contact his electric company's Farm Representative.

Now is the time to get the complete picture of hay drying, to work on the design for your barn, to place the order for the materials. Do it now and be ready to process next summer's first cutting by this proven drying system. Your local electric company's Farm Representative will be glad to give you full facts and figures. No obligation whatsoever.

Electricity is available to more than 86% of all the farms in the area served by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois

Reception to Honor Sgt. Ames and Bride, Former Lillian Wells

Honoring Sgt. Roderick D. Ames, and his bride, the former Miss Lillian Jeanette Wells, whose marriage took place Saturday, will be a reception Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock in the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henry Ames, Rosecrans.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ames have been spending their honeymoon at Coffeyville, Kans., visiting the bridegroom's brother Wallace, who is stationed there with the army air corps.

They plan to leave Jan. 16 for Fort Belvoir near Washington, D. C., where Sergeant Ames is stationed.

For their wedding, which took place at 2:30 o'clock in the Lady chapel of Christ Episcopal church, Waukegan, the bride wore a blue suit with accessories in black, and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Her sister, Miss Shirley Wells, was maid of honor, wearing a steel gray ensemble with tan accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Otto Ames, Waukegan, attended his brother as best man.

Dean Howard Ganster officiated at the ceremony, which was attended only by members of the family and a few intimate friends.

Sgt. Ames, who has been serving with the army engineer corps in the Alaskan theater of action, including the Aleutians, arrived home Dec. 26 on a 30-day furlough. He is a graduate of Warren Township High School, Gurnee.

The bride, a graduate of Antioch Township High School, has been employed as a telephone operator at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wells of Tamarack farm, Highway 173, east of Antioch.

Mrs. W. C. Petty reviewed A. J. Cronin's book, "The Green Years," the story of an Irish youth brought up by Scottish grandparents, in a household in which his chief champion was his great-grandfather.

January 22 was announced as the date for the next card party to be sponsored by the P. T. A.

The room prize for attendance of parents at the meeting was awarded to the fourth grade.

VALENTINE PARTY PLANNED BY CLUB AT HICKORY CORNERS

A card party will be sponsored by the Hickory Woman's club on St. Valentine's Day, it was planned at a meeting held Dec. 29 with nine members present.

The club's next business meeting will take place Jan. 18 with Mrs. Vera Ranney as hostess, and will feature a brush demonstration.

Receipts from the party sponsored by the club Dec. 9 amounted to $133.77, with disbursements of $188.46, leaving in the treasury $104.90 to be applied toward the purchase of movie sound projector equipment for the Hickory school, it was reported.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gordon Wells and Mrs. Ralph Miller. The past year has seen a great improvement in the Hickory Corners schoolhouse, it was pointed out during the business meeting.

A new furnace has been installed, new plumbing put in throughout the building, with new fixtures, hot and cold water, electric stove, new drapes and curtains, new tops for banquet tables, 10 sets of card tables, dishes, and numerous other supplies.

The Hickory Woman's club, headed by Mrs. Clarence Spiering, is working to make the school one of the best of its size and type in the county.

It at present has a record enrollment of 29 pupils, 24 boys and 5 girls. Mrs. Ranney is the teacher.

FOUR BIRTHDAYS ARE CELEBRATED AT PARTY

Fifty-two friends and neighbors gathered to hold a joint celebration of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Fred Hockstra, M/T Sgt. Frank Farm, Oscar Hagen and Robert Ridel in the beautiful Mexican room of Spiering's Castle, Highways 173 and 45, last Wednesday evening.

Old-time dancing was enjoyed until midnight, when refreshments were served, with additional entertainment afterward.

Plans are now being made to hold similar parties each month.

The Hockstras are moving from the farm they have lived on for the past 16 years and will make their home in Antioch. The William Richards will occupy the farm they are vacating.

Sgt. Farm, who is on furlough after 15 months of overseas duty, will leave soon for a southern camp.

Mrs. Ed F. Vos, who underwent a major operation Jan. 2 at the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, where she has been for medical observation and treatment since shortly before Christmas, is reported to be recovering rapidly.

THE LAYMAN

Leave it to the ministers,
And soon the church will die.
Leave it to the women folk,
The young will pass it by,
For the church is all that lifts us
From the coarse and selfish mob,
And the church that is to prosper
Needs the Layman on the job.
Now the Layman has his business
And the Layman has his joys,
But he also has the training
Of his little girls and boys,
And I wonder how he'd like it
If there were no churches here
And he had to raise the children
In a Godless atmosphere.
It's the Church's special function,
To uphold the finer things,
To teach the way of living,
From which all that's noble springs.

But the ministers can't do it
Single-handed and alone,
For the Laymen of the Country
Are the Church's Cornerstone.

When you see a Church that's empty,
Though the doors are open wide,
It's not the Church that's dying,
But the Laymen who have died.
For it's not by song or sermon
That the Church's work is done,
It's the Laymen of the Country,
Who for God must carry on.
—Edgar A. Guest—

You are cordially invited to worship at the Methodist Church in Antioch each Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Chairman Klass Thanks 6th War Bond Workers

"I wish to thank all those who worked on the Sixth War Loan drive and did such a splendid job," Township Campaign Chairman Otto S. Klass announced this week.

"Everyone should appreciate their efforts, not only in giving up their time, but in using their gasoline, paying it out of their own pockets, with no remuneration except the gratification that the Almighty God has given them the strength to do their part on the home front.

"I know that they have a full realization that cooperation on the home front is vital to the winning of the war, and that this realization makes the sacrifices which our government is asking seem small indeed.

"Citizens in this country have much for which to be thankful. Our standards of living have changed but little and our personal sacrifices are not worth a comment. So far, the only real sacrifices are those being made by our sons who are fighting our battles. The lot of those at the front lines is terrific physical effort, plus mental anguish, blood grime, torn bodies and death. What have we, who are left behind, to complain about unless it be to criticize ourselves for not doing more to ease their burdens and bring this war more quickly to an end?

"Could the boys at the front have seen the day-by-day record of the petty selfish squabbles of civilians, that have hampered production of the tools, hesitating over buying bonds, selling the bonds when not absolutely necessary, these things which are so necessary to their victories and survival, we wonder what their reaction would have been?

"On the other hand, we can all extend our heartfelt thanks to those who have helped again and again, and will continue to help, and with the Grace of the Almighty, bring this war to a speedy and victorious conclusion."

Begin Draft of Farm Workers in Illinois

In accordance with a directive received from national selective service headquarters, Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director, Friday ordered Illinois local boards to review the classifications of all agriculturally deferred registrants ages 18 through 25 years and to have such registrants given preinduction physical examinations.

"All Class I-C registrants ages 18 through 25 years," Colonel Armstrong stated, "with the exception of those previously rejected or found qualified for limited military service only, will be forwarded to the induction station for preinduction physical examination. If any such registrant is found acceptable for service, the local board will determine whether he will be reclassified as available for military service or his deferment continued because of his critical need in his agriculture occupation. Appeal rights will, of course, exist in any case of reclassification."

"While the new directive is not considered a 'blanket order' to reclassify all I-C registrants of this age group, local boards have been informed that they must give consideration to the President's statement that such registrants are deemed less necessary in agriculture than in the armed forces and that boards must immediately apply stricter standards in determining whether or not a farm registrant should be deferred."

"Since each agricultural registrant's case must be considered on its individual merits, no estimate can be made of how many Illinois farm registrants under 26 years of age will be inducted under the new directive. Physical examinations of these farm registrants are expected to start at the induction station on January 15, and it is felt that the bulk of them will be found physically fit for military service. Calls for these special examination will be issued over and above the regular preinduction examination calls and will be gauged according to the volume capacity of the induction station."

"Safeguard Your Bonds!" Dept. of Safety Warns

The following letter has been received from Lawrence Morell Gross, superintendent of the division of crime prevention, Illinois state department of public safety, Springfield—

"Bye-Bye Bonds" is becoming an ever increasing plaint of burglarly victims since the inception of the Treasury policy which permits redemption of war bonds on an ever-the-counter basis at any bank. The professional burglar and thief has been quick to discover that with the stealing of some identification, a few hours practice on simulating the signature readily turns the stolen bonds into cash. It is the belief of this department that if the public in general was aware of the general trend, they would use more care in protecting their bonds around the home. Too often today, they are simply stored in a dresser drawer or in a hallway desk and very often they are stored with what has proven to be a very acceptable means of identification, the family ration books.

We know it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to buy bonds, but it is also their patriotic duty to safeguard them. Stolen bonds will be almost immediately redeemed by the thief and this thievery results not only in loss to the individual, but it results in loss of the government and to the war effort. We ask that you, as a conscientious publisher, give publicity to the fact that bonds under the present system are so easily redeemed that they are an actual incentive to crime.

The householder must be warned that his bonds should be safe-guarded just as completely and as carefully as he would safe-guard currency in his home. They should be kept safely under lock and key and if this is not possible, they should not be allowed to accumulate in any one spot, but should be separated and deposited in various safe places throughout the house. This department is primarily interested in the prevention of crime and our studies have indicated that any new type of loot which is easily accessible actually produces criminals, for crime is a product and men who would not ordinarily enter into a life of crime become criminals when profitable loot is easily accessible.

With the hope that you will cooperate with us to the extent of giving this condition publication in your columns, I am

Sincerely yours,
Lawrence Morell Gross
Supt. of Crime Prevention

Memorandum to housewives: Are you having trouble in the kitchen these days? Has wartime rationing cut down on your supply of pots and the variety of food you can serve for dinner?

Then listen to the woes of Marine MTSgt. Mark V. Okonek of Minneapolis, Minn., in charge of an air unit here, as reported by Stfs. John T. Kirby, a Marine Corps combat correspondent.

In six weeks, two fires swept his improvised galley. The second fire destroyed biscuits he had just made with the galley's last bit of flour. The fire also destroyed a batch of bread pudding—made with the last bread in the area.

Two hours after the second fire, a new galley was ready. Then, a 90-mile-an-hour typhoon swept most of it away.

As he started to set up a third galley, Sgt. Okonek commented:

"I think we've reached the point where we can laugh off anything."

SOMEWHERE IN THE PALAU ISLANDS (Delayed)—

Home has a lot of names to Marines serving in the Pacific, but the name for home keeps changing as the war goes on. Back in the days before Pearl Harbor "the States" and "State-side" sufficed, but not any more, reports Capt. Earl J. Wilson, a Marine Corps public relations officer.

During Guadalcanal days Marines spoke of "Golden Gate by '48, bread-line by '49," and in the later Solomons campaigns this changed to "the old country" when referring to the United States.

Latest slang to gain currency are the code symbols for "U" and "S". Now a Marine speaks of going back to "Uncle Sugar."

Vicious Dispositions

For vicious dispositions, the snappers probably are equaled by the smaller soft shelled turtles, which trace their family tree back 80 million years in the United States and at least 100 million in China. Soft shelled turtles, of which there are about 25 species, are most abundant in southern United States and are easily distinguished from other turtles by their leathery shells and long soft snouts. Unlike most turtles which must come to the surface at rather frequent intervals to breathe, soft shelled varieties can remain under water for several hours at a time.

Compulsory Crops

Production of oil bearing seeds, largely of types used in the production of oils for paint, constitute a compulsory crop for farmers in Algeria, says the U. S. department of commerce. Each producer may select the kind of seed he desires to produce—castor beans, flaxseed, sunflower seed, cottonseed, or soybeans, provided that the area in which he is situated is suitable for the indicated crop.

Women's Suits

What about suits for the woman with large hips? A fitted suit jacket ending just above the largest part of the hips will tend to increase the size by calling attention to the circumference outlined by the bottom of the skirt. A jacket length just covering the widest part will in many cases cut the figure in half, resulting in unpleasant proportions. Avoid the use of two colors in jacket and skirt, as such a combination divides the figure and calls attention to the wrong part of it.

Officer's Daring Rescues Flyers In the Balkans

Farish Built Secret Fields For Stranded Airmen; Killed in Crash.

BARI, ITALY. — Allied military censorship released the adventurous story of an American officer, Maj. Linn M. Farish of Woodland, Calif., whose report on his roving in the Balkans in the shadow of Axis troops has been termed by fellow officers one of the most important documents of the war.

An account of his secret work in enemy and Partisan territory was banned so long as he lived, but while on a surveying trip by plane September 11 he was killed, leaving a legend of scores of grounded Allied flyers saved from the clutches of Bulgar and German troops.

Built Secret Fields.
Farish parachuted into the wild Bosnian hinterland September 19, 1943, and passed three 90-day periods in the interior of Yugoslavia in the year that followed.

An engineer, he established many secret airfields from which Allied flyers and others have flown out to freedom. He obtained the assistance of Marshall Josip Broz (Tito) in the rescue of stranded aviators, and in difficult cases he went himself to guide them across the rough country and through enemy lines.

Farish was moved deeply by conditions as he found them in Yugoslavia—the strife between the Partisans and Chetniks, the river of blood where he felt there should be brotherhood in arms. A short time before his death he went to the island of Capri to put his feelings on paper.

The report was prepared painstakingly, with a careful regard for the opinions of other American liaison officers attached, as he was, to Tito's headquarters. The report went to President Roosevelt.

Killing Innocent People.

"In all this welter and confusion of conflicting reports and misunderstandings," he wrote, "a few pertinent facts stand out:

"The senseless killing of these innocent people by each other must be stopped. It is useless now to endeavor to decide which side first did wrong.

"In all this terrible story of misguidance, of rape, death and destruction, one great power that I feel might have prevented it or have stopped it has never been used. The United States of America is mentioned in the same breath with God in Yugoslavia. We were the one nation on earth to whom the people believed they could turn for unbiased, unpolitical aid and advice without having to pay something in return.

"How many hundreds of homes did we enter in which the people crossed themselves and thanked God when they found we were American officers? It would be difficult to express the utter sense of helplessness and frustration which we felt in the face of such complete faith in the ability of our country to right wrongs so evident on all sides."

Customer Was Egged Into This Mess by Waitress

ST. LOUIS. — A waitress was fined $25 in city court because she threw four soft-boiled eggs at a customer—and hit him every time.

Charles W. Ude, the customer, testified he ordered three eggs but was served four by Miss Inez Bock.

In an argument which ensued, Ude testified the waitress told him he could eat elsewhere, and that when he started to leave, Miss Bock started to throw.

The waitress, who filed cross-charges of peace disturbance, said Ude used abusive language which prompted her to throw the eggs. Charges against Ude were dismissed.

General Cornered by Tank, Saved by Planes

NINTH USAAF HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE. — Lieut. George W. Stucky, a fighter pilot serving as liaison officer with an American armored division, told of the rescue of the division's general by Thunderbolts he guided to the target.

The general, whose name was not disclosed, was trapped in a house just outside the city of Luxemburg when a German Tiger tank rolled almost to the front door.

The general radioed for help and Stucky directed Thunderbolts to the scene. They strafed the tank until the Germans jumped out and ran and the general picked them off with a tommy gun.

Chute Fails to Open, Lands in Bed of Silk

VANCOUVER, WASH. — Second Lieut. John J. Egger Jr. of Seattle told of riding piggy-back on a parachute to earth after his own had failed to open.

He was on maneuvers in England, he said, and the last to leave a plane. After a 100-foot fall, he found himself on top of the chute of a jumper from another plane, he said.

Realizing that both of them would be killed if he held his position, he slid off at 75 feet suffering a leg fracture. The other chutist was not hurt.

Jap Brutality Told by Yanks

Rescued Americans Tell of Being Starved, Beaten By Cruel Captors.

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HQ., LEYTE, PHILIPPINES. — How 83 American officers and men who had been Japanese prisoners of war in the Philippines for two and a half years were rescued was revealed recently.

The men escaped from an American - torpedoed Japanese transport, evaded their captors' guns which were turned on the trapped prisoners, and were hidden by Filipino guerrillas until removed from the islands several weeks ago.

Two voluntarily remained behind with the guerrillas and the remainder are safe in New Guinea hospitals. Those still in the islands are Lieut. Richard L. Cook of Los Angeles and Staff Sgt. Joseph Cole, Plateau, Ala.

"All of the men are in good condition, except five recovering from bullet and grenade wounds," the announcement said. "None is listed as serious."

Forced to Labor.

The Americans had been held in the Davao, Mindanao, penal colony since the fall of Bataan and Corregidor. They were forced to labor on an air field, against their protests and with insufficient food and clothing.

When American planes started assaults on the southern Philippines, the Japanese began moving their prisoners to outer camps, evidently anticipating invasion.

The survivors were tightly packed in the hold of one ship in such a way when it was attacked by an American submarine. Their transport and at least two other enemy ships were sunk.

"The Japanese guards deliberately fired on the Americans trapped in the holds and seeking to escape from the sinking ship," the announcement said.

"Others were hunted down and killed in the water as they sought to swim for shore, two miles distant. Some were picked up by enemy patrol boats and at least 30 were later brutally executed.

"After escaping such savagery and hours of hardship, 83 of the American officers and men made shore and were cared for by Filipino guerrillas until picked up and taken south by submarines and planes."

Packed Tight in Hold

All the survivors told virtually the same story of their ordeal. Lieut. John J. Morris of Springfield, Ohio, acted as their spokesman. He said the men taken from Mindanao were marched to a vessel in Davao bay August 20. They were hemmed in by ropes, tied to the outside men in the group, and guarded by enemy soldiers with machine guns and automatic rifles.

They were packed so tightly in ships' holds that they could hardly sit down.

They traveled for 18 days in this close confinement, with insufficient food and less than a cup of water daily. All but the strongest were exhausted.

While working on the Mindanao air field, the men were housed in four small barracks. They received 500 grams of rice per man daily at first, but this was reduced to 300 grams plus a few vegetables. Limited amounts of salt were provided despite their work in the grueling sun, and on many days they received no salt.

Guards often beat the laborers with clubs to force more work. Later, alleging an escape attempt had been frustrated, the Japanese confiscated the prisoners' shoes, including those doing pick and shovel work.

Nazis Dare Not Give In, Goering Tells Workers

LONDON, ENGLAND. — Berlin quoted Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering as telling armament workers in a speech recently that the effects of defeat would be so terrible that Germany would "never dare capitulate." Goering said a German defeat could be avoided if the home front threw all it had into the forging of arms and the fighting front continued to "fight, fight, fight."

Buse, 71-year-old bachelor, layman and retired iron works executive, died August 31. His will, just filed for probate, set aside $8,275 for the saying of 8,105 masses.

Great Britain Approves

Of Travel to France LONDON. — British businessmen at liberty to travel to Paris and other parts of liberated France — if they could find accommodations.

The home office announced that most of France had been relinquished from military control and turned over to French authorities thus necessitating only a British exit permit and a French visa to make a trip.

Last Minute Decision

Wins Pastor's Praise ENGLEWOOD, N. J. — Guests arrived for the fashionable wedding of Miss Matilda Horn, and James William Wilson III, Farmville, Va. But at a dinner party Miss Horn's father announced that the couple had decided they didn't want to be married after all. "I admire their courage," the pastor remarked.

One-Armed Blind Girl Weds Lover

Travels Half Way Across Country for Ceremony.

KANSAS CITY, KAN. — A 21-year-old sightless girl with only one hand, who came here by train, unaccompanied, from her home in Reedsport, Ore., and an army private just returned from three years overseas, were married recently.

The bride is Miss Vina Baldwin, small blond with a pleasant smile. The groom is Pvt. Foster Pierson, 30, Independence, Mo. The ceremony was in the offices of Judge Clark E. Tucker at the county courthouse.

The bride wore a wedding dress of blue silk with a white flower on the shoulder—a gift from Pierson while he was in Hawaii. They plan a brief honeymoon here, and if he can arrange it he will accompany her to the home of her parents in Oregon before returning to active duty at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Upon her arrival here, she cried, "It's you, it's you," as she recognized Pierson's footsteps.

The bride has taken care of herself for more than a year, living alone in a trailer and working as a dishwasher in a restaurant. In addition to keeping house, washing, ironing and cooking, she canned 13 dozen quarts of fruit, vegetables and fish this year.

The couple met five years ago while Pierson was working in her home town of Camas Valley, Ore. It was there when she was four years old that the bride lost her sight and hand while playing with dynamite caps.

Yank Patrol in Holland

Finds Deserted Baby WITH AMERICAN AIRBORNE FORCES IN HOLLAND. — Pfc. Fred Wilson of Marion, Ind., carried a deserted baby in one arm as his squad returned from a patrol a few miles into Germany.

"Boy, was it heavy by the time I got back," he said.

The soldier explained that he found the infant, a good-looking youngster, lying in a crib in the cellar of a house in a village which otherwise was completely deserted. "I couldn't understand how anyone would leave a kid behind, especially in a house not likely to be hit by shells from either side. So I brought it along."

He turned the infant over to a Dutch nurse.

Capt. William Schmees of Fairview Village, Ohio, said his men had groused for a couple of days because so little happened, but then the Nijmegen area flared into one of the hottest spots with the fight for the town and its Waal river highway bridge.

"It was fairly heavy going," said Captain Schmees. "The boys are seeing plenty now, and they're satisfied."

Something About This

Soldier—Three Wives

CARLYLE, ILL. — James King's wife thought it was strange when her husband took off his uniform as a second lieutenant in the army air forces when he returned to Wendover army air field, Utah. He told her he was switching to a buck private's uniform so he wouldn't have to be bothered saluting the non-commissioned men.

Suspicious, the wife, who was Miss Reva Baty, 20, of Carlyle before a one-week courtship during King's furlough home, investigated.

The Wendover commanding officer confirmed her suspicions her husband was a "buck private." State's Attorney Joseph Schlarmann also learned whirlwind courtships are no novelty for Private King; in fact, he had been married five times before he met Miss Baty. Only the first and fifth wives obtained divorces, according to Schlarmann.

Miss Baty has started divorce proceedings.

Jap Sniper Is Beheaded By Low-Flying Avenger

PEARL HARBOR, H. I. — Naval Lieut. Raymond Globokar, Chisholm, Minn., found a new way to eliminate Jap snipers during the battle for Tinian when his low flying Avenger observation plane decapitated a Jap perched in a tree.

The plane was skimming along at tree top level, Marine Capt. Grady Gatlin, an aerial observer, said. "I felt the plane strike something," he said. "I looked back to see what was left. A wooden platform and a piece of tin. To my surprise a Jap sniper was falling out of the tree."

The plane's crew, the report said, did not spot the sniper until they were almost upon the tree. Then, instead of zooming, the pilot decided to go right through.

'Don't Worry' Plea Of Yank Captives

War Department Has Data On Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Dear mom and pop, don't worry!" write 9 out of 10 of the 65,000 or more American prisoners of war in their letters from enemy prison camps.

Army officials revealed this typical plea to the folks back home during the first press tour of the prisoner of war information bureau at the United States war department. This is the "only official source of information in the United States concerning Americans who are in prison camps of our enemies," they said.

Americans held by enemies also include approximately 10,000 civilian internees, about 75 per cent held by the Japanese, in addition to the military men and civilians who worked with United States service who are counted as war prisoners. About 500 women civilians are held in German camps, but no nurses or WACS.

Quickest way to get word of a prisoner of war is to write the prisoner of war information bureau, provost marshal general's office, war department, Washington, D. C. This bureau has copies of all information coming into this country about war prisoners. Even information written by prisoners to relatives or friends is included in the files.

The public can expect more information reported as war prisoners soon, but so far the majority have been airmen, the bureau officials said.

German prison camps, where Americans often are reported to be, include Dulag Luft where all airmen go first; Oberwesel on the bank of the Rhine where the enemy pumps them for information; Stalag Luft I, about 100 miles southeast of Berlin, and Stalag Luft III, with a view of the bay across from Sweden, the camp where all air mail is censored.

Hitler Now Fortifying His Mountain Retreat

WASHINGTON. — An estimated 45,000 workers are fortifying Adolf Hitler's Berchtesgaden retreat and blasting has been heard as far as Salzburg, some 20 miles distant, according to the Stockholm newspaper, Arbetaren, in an article reported to the Office of War Information.

But despite strictest SS (Elite Guard) and Gestapo control of the Berchtesgaden area "sabotage occurs," the Swedish paper said. It reported that a "terrible ammunition explosion" occurred September 7, which destroyed part of an engineer's camp near Schellenberg, six miles from Hitler's residence.

"This is the second explosion this year," the Arbetaren said.

Describing the fortifications, the newspaper said, "in an area of some 600 square kilometers between Untersberg and so-called Steinerne Meer near Salzburg, gigantic shafts, holes and kilometer-long corridors have been blasted into the cliffs. Artillery positions have been installed and gigantic quantities of ammunition and foodstuffs have been stored in holes. Water reservoirs have been constructed."

The article said that Hitler and his followers "want to assure themselves of refuge in this impenetrable mountain area where they will be able to resist for years in a labyrinth of underground corridors."

Don't Let Weeds Ruin The Dandelion Harvest

WASHINGTON, D. C. — If you feel an urge to grow dandelions the government is right in there pitching for you. Just order a copy of Farmers' Bulletin 663 from the department of agriculture.

The bulletin tells how to pick up a little loose change by growing herbs and drug plants, such as digitalis, cascara, arnica, ginseng and pennyroyal. Dandelion root is highly regarded in some sections as a diuretic, stomachic and cholagogue, according to reference books.

The government assures the prospective dandelion rancher that the plant "will grow well in any good soil" and advises that the crops should be "kept free of weeds."

Sees Australian Ruling

Prices Far Into Peacetime

WASHINGTON. — Prof. Douglas Copland, Australian prices commissioner, predicted at a news conference that Australia will have price control "from three to five years" after the war "despite the recent referendum in which our voters refused to extend the present Australian price control act." He is here in the course of a tour of the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom studying postwar monetary, price and trade policies.

'Black Widow' Called Mighty Night Fighter

LOS ANGELES. — Northrop Aircraft corporation disclosed that its P-61 Black Widow night fighter carries four .50-caliber machine guns in a revolving turret besides 20-mm. cannon. This gives it greater fire power than any other fighter in the world. Not one has been shot down in combat.

Diary of Airman Reveals Tale of Life, Love, Death

Adrift on Raft in Pacific, He Is Attacked by Japs And Dies Alone.

ELKHART, IND. — The sheer drama of an airman's last days adrift in the Pacific on a life raft... The horror of a Japanese plane diving at the raft, piercing his legs with bullets.

His love for a sweetheart he planned to marry on his next leave...

And, just before death, his longing for "Mom's cooking."

All this was unfolded by Mrs. Henry Clevenz, mother of Jack Cooper, 23, of Elkhart, a radioman on a navy torpedo plane that was shot down June 15. The mother pieced together the story from Cooper's sketchy but graphic log released by the navy, a letter from his squadron commander and also from the commander of a naval vessel that picked up the life raft on July 21, about four days after her son died on it.

Notes to Sweetheart.

Sprinkled through the notations scratched laboriously on paper leaves of his wallet were frequent endearments to "Helen" or "Big Eyes"—Miss Helen E. Checchio of Elkhart. She and Cooper had set their wedding date for his next leave.

The log as released by the navy: July 6—Mom: Wings are in sewing kit, am entitled to all stars and more. Be sure to check ins., etc., 10,000 ins. (roses) to remind me of Helen. I've always loved her. Love, kisses, same for you. Mom, Dad and all.

July 8—Weak. Can't catch fish. No rain. Love Big Eyes. July 9—Little rain. Headed west. Weak.

July 10—Rain last night, very weak; land close somewhere. July 11—Mavis flew over. No see. Left eye bad shape. Still have water. Drifting N. E.

July 12—Little cloudy, no planes, no land. Headed north p. m. Jap Nell saw me. strafed hit me, in both legs. bandaged them. Drifting E.

Caught Small Fish.

July 13—Very weak from loss of blood. land in sight. no food since the 4th. 6 ounces of water left. going east.

July 14—Caught one small fish last p. m. very slight breeze SE if this is my last day tell my Big Eyes to be happy with someone else. I'm back to salt water. God bless you all.

Surprise July 15 tell Helen I found God be happy love. No rain for 2 weeks. tell Helen I loved her until the end—Jack. I love Mom Dad and all wish I eat her cooking.

The log stopped here.

Mrs. Clevenz said, based on information she had received, that her son had boarded a rubber life raft after the plane and crew were shot down. He drifted hopefully, certain that other planes had sighted the raft. Finally hope faded. Provisions gave out.

Commander of the vessel which picked up the raft after it drifted for more than a month wrote to Mrs. Clevenz that Cooper's diary was an inspiration to "myself, officers and men of my command." He concluded:

"We, my officers and men salute you and your son." Cooper was buried at sea.

Falls 3,000 Feet, Lands In Tree, Cheats Death

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS ON MOROTAI ISLAND, MOLUCCAS.—Pvt. Joe Aiello plummeted 3,000 feet when his parachute failed to open, and yet escaped without a single broken bone.

His first words when he regained consciousness were:

"The — air corps! I should have stayed in the medics."

Treetops broke the fall of the youth from the Bronx. Medics theorized that the fact he was unconscious when he hit the trees and was relaxed when he landed probably saved his life.

He was ordered to bail out from a Liberator that developed engine trouble while on a mission to the Philippines. Aiello said he lost consciousness just before he hit the trees.

When he came to, Aiello said, "I was scared to open my eyes for fear I might see angels."

It's 2 Gallons for Long

Time, Is Report of OWI

WASHINGTON. — No changes in gasoline rationing can be expected before the end of the war in Europe, the OWI said in a 7,000-word report on the crude oil and gasoline supply.

How much additional gasoline will then be available for civilians will depend on how much the army and navy will need after Germany surrenders. Estimates now are being prepared by military authorities, OWI said.

The report says that when more civilian gasoline does become available, the rations for trucks and buses will be increased first. Next in line will be "B" card holders who use their cars in the course of business.

-But Her Daddy's Still in the Fight, and the War Bonds You Bought Back in the Days of Pearl Harbor are Still Needed in the Fight, Too - for Victory!

REMEMBER this touching picture of a little girl's farewell to her war-bound daddy? Appearing shortly after Pearl Harbor, it touched the hearts of millions of Americans and helped to launch the greatest voluntary savings program in all history.

That girl is three years older today. In that time, our enemies have been pushed steadily back toward their own frontiers... thanks in no small measure to the overwhelming flood of tanks, ships, planes and guns that more than 85 million Americans have poured into the fight through their purchases of War Bonds.

But her daddy is still at war—the fight goes on—the money you've put into Bonds is still needed, just as it was after Pearl Harbor. KEPT IN THE FIGHT—KEPT IN WAR BONDS—IT WILL CONTINUE TO WORK FOR VIC-

TORY—AND FOR YOU.

For just as that little girl has grown, so have the War Bonds you bought three years ago. The $100 Bond you paid $75 for then is already worth more than you paid—and how swiftly the time has passed! In another year it will be worth $80—at maturity, $100. Here's money you'll need later—for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—just as your country needs it today.

So let this picture remind you—HOLD TIGHT TO YOUR BONDS!

JAMES L. JONES HAS "WINGS" AND COMMISSION

Second-Lieutenant James L. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, Route 1, Zion, is among the members of the final class of aviation cadets for advanced pilot training who received their silver pilot's wings at Brooks field, Texas, Dec. 23.

NAVY STILL CALLS FOR AIRCREWMEN CHAPLAINS, DOCTORS, CB OFFICERS

The following letter was recently received from E. S. Root, Captain, USN (Ret.), director of the office of Naval Officer Procurement, Bureau of Naval Personnel, Chicago 4, Ill. —

During the past few weeks there has been a revision of the territory served by the Offices of Naval Officer Procurement throughout the Ninth Naval District. As a result of these changes the area now served by your publication is under the cognizance of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Chicago, which is located in Room 300, Board of Trade Building, 141 West Jackson Boulevard.

This office will continue to supervise the procurement of male and female officer candidates for the Navy, aircrewmens and Waves.

At the present time there is an urgent need for aircrewmens chaplains, doctors, and Sea Bee officers. Attached you will find articles for immediate release on aircrewmens and Construction Battalion officers.

Although I am aware of the limited space available because of the paper shortage, it will be greatly appreciated if you will publish an article advising your readers of the fact that your area is now served by this office and, on successive days, each of the attached articles on the need of aircrewmens and Construction Battalion officers. We shall forward to you in the near future other releases on doctors, chaplains, and WAVES which we hope you will publish.

As you know, the Navy's Personnel Program will continue to expand until the middle of next year. In addition to this there will be special programs from time to time in which an urgent need exists for additional personnel. We are extremely grateful for the splendid cooperation the Navy has received from you in the past and we sincerely hope that we may be able to continue to receive your support and cooperation.

Cabbage Seed

Cabbage seed has a peculiar trait known as alternating dormancy which makes germination rather uncertain. Because of this, sow four or five seeds to the inch, even under glass. Then thin the seedlings to stand an inch apart as soon as they can be handled. If there is room, transplant to stand four inches apart or thin to that spacing when second leaves form. Be sure to keep the seedlings cool; they do better at 55 than at 70 degrees.

No Income Tax Taken On Job Insurance Pay

Payments to employed workers under the Illinois Unemployment Compensation law are exempt from income tax under the federal law, Acting Director of Labor Robert L. Gordon stated today, in a statement advising that the Division of Placement and Unemployment Compensation can give no information to individuals regarding their 1944 earnings.

"Most workers are aware that unemployment compensation payments are not subject to federal income tax," Director Gordon said, "yet many workers fail to realize that the Division of Placement and Unemployment Compensation cannot at this time tell how much they earned last year."

Worker's claims for benefits based on wages paid in 1944 cannot, under the Illinois law, be filed before April 1; until that time benefits must be figured on the basis of the individual's 1943 wages, Gordon added. The division needs every minute of the time between January 31, when employer's reports for the last three months of 1944 are due, and the start of the new benefit year to record all wage data for Illinois' 2,500,000 insured workers, he said.

To qualify for jobless pay between now and April 1 the state law requires that the worker must have been paid at least $225 in insured work during 1943, be able and ready to take any suitable job offered, and be registered for work with the United States Employment Service.

Revised income tax returns for the past quarter must be paid by Jan. 15, income tax officials are reminding businesses and individuals who come under the quarterly regulations.

Cooking Frozen Vegetables

The most important rule for cooking frozen vegetables is to "cook vegetables for the shortest time required to secure an acceptable product." This applies even more strongly to frozen than to fresh products because since the tissues have already been softened by blanching and freezing, it is easy to overcook them. Other important points are to use as little water as possible, have water boiling when the vegetable is added and start timing when the water comes back to a boil after adding the vegetable. Do not allow the vegetables to boil violently.

The Timid Guanaco

Guanaco fur comes from the animal of the same name. The guanaco is the larger of two wild representatives of the wool-bearing animals of the camel family found in South America. The other is the vicuña. The long soft fur of the animal is fawn colored on top and white underneath.

Pleated Skirt
 A woman with hips too large for the upper part of her body should not wear a slim, straight skirt unless it is cut with a group of deep pleats in center back and front. Such pleats and fullness keep the straight lines on the side but allow the wearer enough freedom in movement, give the illusion of grace and conceal the shape of the thigh. A six-gore cut—and sometimes even a four-gore—may be sufficient to add enough flare all around and fit gracefully.
